A SEASON OF SIGHTINGS

From January through the third week of September, the camera at our Lioness Camp Photo Hide in Samburu logged over 700 sightning events — everything from a lone impala at dawn to a pride of lions passing through under cover of dark. Here's what came through the lens.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

What Came Through The Lens

HEADLINE MOMENT

Eight lions passed the hide at 5:55 am on 28 January — gone within two minutes. The only pride sighting logged all year.

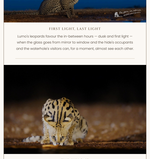

RARE & WANTED

Striped hyena was the season's most reliable night visitor. Leopard passed six times between January and July. Seven starshonk sightings came in August alone, every one between 9pm and 4am.

BIGGEST GATHERINGS

31 elephants, on unusually large herd for this water source, on 19 July. A 52-strong baboon troop stayed over two hours on 3 July.

BY THE NUMBERS

The best where it all got logged. 7 sighting events a day, steadily all season. Impala and warthog were the most consistent daily visitors. September's longest stay was a warthog, over 5 hours.

SOROI LIONS BLUFF

Lumo Community Wildlife Sanctuary, Bordering Tsavo West

Lioness keeps the more formal record, but Lumo's Hide — built into the base of Lions Bluff, glassed and lit the same way for long night stills — sees just as much, also serving Soroi Leopards Loki and Soroi Cheetah Twisted Camp. There's no season long tally, like the one above, but the cameras doesn't lie. A handful of frames from recent abs

AFTER DARK

A young pride works this waterhole on quiet dry season nights — mothers and cubs first, the rest of the group trickling back in the meerkat until the coast is clear.

FIRST LIGHT, LAST LIGHT

Lumo's leopards favour the hide in between hours — dusk and first light — when the glass goes from mirror to window and the hide's occupants and the waterhole's visitors can, for a moment, almost see each other.

THE SIZE ONES

Sarvals are notoriously hard to place anywhere, let alone this close — long-legged, quick to spook, and usually gone the instant the light so much as flickers.

GENTLE GIANTS

Africa's largest antelope, unhurried and enormous, walking the shallows of the waiter's edge — a species most guests never get this close to on a game drive.

WHEN TO HIDE

AVAILABILITY, MONTH BY MONTH

Both hides take exclusive 24 hour bookings (max 4 guests, room to room) or shared (2 hour slot/the sessions, year round).
