– Welcome –

Soroi Larsens Camp is a boutique camp on the banks of the Ewaso Ng'iro River in Samburu National Reserve, named after the explorer Eric Larsen. It opened in July 2024 and is Gold Eco-Rated.

Sixteen units line the river: twelve River-Facing Luxury Tents, each named for a bird found in Samburu, two Two-Bedroom Family Units and two Deluxe Tented Suites, for a maximum of 40 guests. Samburu is home to the Northern Specials: Grevy's zebra, reticulated giraffe, Beisa oryx, gerenuk and Somali ostrich.

The camp has a swimming pool, a spa, a bar, a sundowner deck and a photographic hide. Wi-Fi runs throughout and power is 24-hour solar.

– The Luxury Tents –

Twelve river-facing tents along the Ewaso Ng'iro, each named for a bird found in Samburu. A four-poster king-size bed sits against a timber headboard, with an en-suite bathroom and indoor shower, bespoke organic amenities, filtered water and a butler hatch. A private terrace with an extended veranda faces the river.

– The Family Units –

Kingfishers and Weavers sit side by side among the river-facing accommodation. Each has two separate en-suite bedrooms, one with a king-size bed and one with twin beds, joined by a sunken river-facing terrace seating area, with a butler hatch, writing desk and wardrobe.

– The Deluxe Suites –

Ololokwe and Desert Rose sit apart from the main tent row, each with its own private entrance, an exclusive fireplace and a king-size bed beneath a hand-painted mural. A private plunge pool and bar open off the suite, and an adjacent tower holds a star bed with an outdoor shower. A private butler is assigned for the length of the stay.
